We came across this item in the Associated Press dispatches this week:

An old Scotchman, writing her thanks in a Bundles for Britain, says Mrs. J. P. Mahaffey, give this recipe for taking a bombing:

"When the air-raid warning sounds, I take the Bible from the shelf and read the Twenty-third Psalm. Then I put up a wee bit o' prayer. Then I take a weeb o' whiskey to steady my nerves. Then I get in bed and pull up the covers. And then I tell Hitler to go to hell."

A newspaper man always is wondering about which part of the newspaper is being overdone. That is the way to build an interesting newspaper. Occasionally somebody makes a survey and gives the editor some real concrete material to be guided by. Recently the school of journalism of Northwestern University made a survey and we give you the figures. If you are average, you will be able to guess the amount in your morning paper but switch to the front page when your afternoon paper is delivered. If you are a man, you take the front page every time. Following are the figures on choices and the percentage who read each among men and women:

MEN Women

1st 2nd 3rd 1st 2nd 3rd

Funny 21% 19% 25% 23% 19%

Next in line for men comes sports, columns and features, and deaths.—Titusville Star Advocate.

Some Famous Wrong Guesses

A six-year-old had come home one day with a note from his teacher in which it was suggested that he be taken out of school as he was "too stupid to learn." The boy's name was Thomas A. Edison.

Tennyson's grandfather gave him ten shillings for writing an elegy on his grandmother. Handing it to the old, old man said: "Well, he earned his first money you can earn by your poetry, and take my word for it, it will be the last."

"Ah!" said Zacchaeus Gruebel Horace's father, when, in a fit of abstraction, the boy tried to yoke the "off" ox on the "near" side, "that boy will never know enough to get on in the world. He'll never know more than how to carry a whistling."

Bonjamin Franklin's mother-in-law hesitated at letting her daughter marry a printer. There were already two printing offices in the United States, and she feared that the country might not be able to support a third.—Your Life Magazine.

May Have Plastic Tags

Steel priorities have put several states on the spot for automobile tags and it is possible we will be using some kind of plastic material for tags before next year is out. This will have to be something besides pressed and treated paper, for there is a big shortage of paper as well as steel.

Florida's motor vehicle commissioner applied to the state legislature for tags and turned them back to tag agents and the ink was hardly washed off the mimeo machine before he was notified that several carloads of steel for 1942 tags could not be delivered because there was no priority provisions.—Leesburg Commercial.

Eliminating The Billboards

Almost ever since the older inhabitant can remember there has been frequent protest from press and public about the many signs that are lined up along the highways.

all over the country. Florida has been no exception, and at last the state legislature, at its recent session, undertook to do something about the sign business.

The bill introduced itself only with signs along the roads outside of incorporated towns and cities. Some phases of the law have been challenged in the courts and definitive information as to validity of the law awaits a decision from the state supreme court. However, the state road department, under whose direction enforcement is placed, has all having signs affected by the new law. People signs affected by the law should acquaint themselves with the provisions of the law and get in position to comply therewith.

There are certain conditions under which signs may be maintained along the highways but they cannot be located on the right of way. There are many cases where the state highway department will have to come in. Some people plan to comply with the law and maintain their signs, while it is said that most of them will take them down or permit to be taken down by the road department workmen.

Personally we never did throw a conviction fit over the roadside signs. We never considered them to be a threat to the highways—that is most of them, for some signs evidence of the artistic spirit—and we have always felt that better results for less money could be had through the columns of the newspapers in legitimate advertising. However, we have probably been somewhat prejudiced on this point.

We do believe, however, that if and when the law is enforced, the signs of the cheap and shoddy signs that have predominated, everybody will be just as well off and just as happy.—The Arcadian.

SIGN LANGUAGE

Letter from college student: "Dear Dad—Guess what I need most of all. That's right. Send along? Best wishes. Your Son, Tom."

Letter from dad to son: "Dear Tom—Nothing ever happens here. We know you like your school. Write us another letter anon. Jimmie was asking about you Monday. Now we have to say good-by."—Krohnite News.

SOMEONE HAD BLUNDERED

He stood there, broke. A recruiting sergeant came and took him by the arm and softly said: "The Army needs you, son. Well, he was game for unemployment really, no joke."

But testing him, the M.D. slowly frowned: "My boy, your ticker's badly off of which?" Then, when they turned his application down, he sadly sought his humble, wind-swept shack.

Good. To hold a trust and fame he was swiftly soared. Then came the Draft, as people said it would; and soon they summoned him before the Board.

The Draft Board doctor whistled in surprise: "Of all the A-1 prospects, man, I'd say, you are the finest yet to meet my eyes." And so, at last, he's in the Army now.—Dixie Guide.

SENSE OF EQUALITY

Despite today's wide spread in individual incomes, we manage in this country to retain a fairly strong sense of equality among our people. In this writer's opinion, the chief source of the feeling of equality is the automobile.

Whatever the age or type of automobile, it holds its own with the rest of the automobile group and thereby feels superior to the pedestrian group. Since nearly everyone either owns or rides in a private automobile, the feeling of superiority is nearly universal.

The humbler a man is, the more an automobile adds to his self-importance. While he's behind a powerful motor he thinks he's good as anybody else, or nearly so.

It's lucky for our democracy that our manufacturers of motor cars have been able to distribute them widely.—Stuart New-

FULLER'S FULMINATIONS

by Fuller Warren

On November 15, 1940, the people of Florida amended their state constitution by adding a 7th Justice to the Supreme Court.

People showed their wisdom and good sense by thus amending the organization of our state. The addition of a 7th Justice to the supreme court made impossible the votes that had occurred so often with a six judge court. The amendment was adopted by the voters of the state's highest court.

The Florida supreme court has a tradition of long service for its members. Judge Whitfield is unfortunately stepping down after 25 years of service.

The late Judge Taylor served more than 30 years. Judge Ellis retired in 1938 after more than 20 years of service. Judges Buford, Brown, and Terrell have been up there in the big league of jurisprudence for close to 20 years.

Florida is indeed fortunate to have a man of Judge Adams' reputation on the bench.

The personage and character of each of the other six justices is fairly familiar to our people of Florida. Judge Adams is probably not so well known to the people as the able man on the supreme court, whose decisions so profoundly affect and influence the life of every person in Florida.

The people should know this man who wields such vast power over their welfare. As the 7th justice, with the deciding vote, he may make many important decisions.

POLITICAL ONCE-OVER

YOU WILL PAY AND PAY AND PAY.

When the tax collector gets through with you this year, you'll learn that in addition to paying a federal social security tax of 2 percent on the earnings of each employee, you must pay $2 per cent on your personal property and up to $100 a year on each employee in excess of one, as an extra occupational tax. Where there are three or more employed, you must insure them against accident and injuries. If either you or an employee are laid off, you are unemployed and pay an unemployment compensation tax. Practically every kind of business using the mails comes under the federal wage and hour laws. In addition, there is a state corporation and federal corporation tax to be paid, even if your business operates at a loss. If it operates at a profit, then there is income tax, property tax, and inheritance tax. If you have paid all your general taxes, special district taxes, and license taxes, you may pay an excess profits tax. If you have anything left over, you may pay the $100 for a license plate and driver's license on a light car, and Uncle Sam gets not a $5 use tax, but $7.09 on the same auto. If you have any money left after you pay all these taxes, not to mention the $100 a gallon for gasoline tax, but a total of $1.84 per gallon for State and federal gas taxes. If you've still got a dollar left you can give it to the Red Cross and not the Community Chest to provide you with food, fuel, clothing, and shelter, as you are disqualified to work on W. P. A., or perhaps you can join the CIO and get strike benefits on which there are no taxes. Possibly the Railroad Brotherhoods will take you in at $9 per day and give you a raise to $10 per day more and retire you later on a Railroad Retirement Pension at half pay. Living expenses have increased 25 percent; cost of living is too high, and only John L. Lewis successfully defies Government and enjoys immunity.

IN DEATH CELL

The story of J. W. Buchanan, as written by S. W. Matthews of the Miami News Nov. 16 is a masterpiece. Buchanan killed his son, then later two prohibition officers. He was given the death sentence and then saw his arch enemy, Mrs. Annenberg, sent to the federal penitentiary. Sam Barco of Miami sought clemency for Buchanan, and rose high as a political power, but failed. Buchanan died in prison and became a companion at large. While Matthews was in Tallahassee preparing Buchanan's story he received a telegram offering him a position paying more than twice his present annual salary. It was the State Commission that recommended to the Pardon Board commutation of Buchanan's sentence what good fortune will wait the Commission? What will Holland DO?

Directors of a corporation which has been dissolved for failure to pay calls on stockholders are liable for unemployment compensation if they continue the business under the corporation name.

This ruling by Attorney General Watson was delivered to Burns F. Collier, general manager of the Florida Industrial Commission.

Contributions in the form of tax rates are levied against employers to support the unemployment compensation fund. The tax rates are set by the commission, as where a corporation, acting as an employer, fails to pay such contributions before being dissolved, only the corporation assets can be used for payment of the compensation fund.

Where the former directors carry on the business in the corporate name and fail to pay, they become liable as individuals.

A life insurance policy cannot be assigned to pay expenses of a burial by a specific funeral home.

Attorney General Tom Watson has informed State Treasurer J. Edwin Larman that he may assign a trust to the trustee any assignment of a life insurance policy which called for a specific funeral home to be paid for a burial, as being contrary to law.

School board members would not be liable as individuals for injuries to members of the Florida Defense Force being transported by county owned buses. Attorney General Tom Watson has informed the State School Superintendent Colin English. A 1941 law authorized school buses to be used in carrying units of the Florida Defense Force.

Codrington Heads State Press Group For Coming Year

Lake City Reporter Publisher Is Chosen At Ocala Meeting

OCAALA, Nov. 27. (FNS)—Closing a successful 3-day session here last week end—the Florida Press Association elected C. C. Codrington, publisher of the Lake City Reporter, president for the ensuing year, naming George Hosmer, Southwest Floridian of Ft. Myers, first vice president, Paul Runge, Mayo Free Press, 2nd vice president, Russell Kay, Florida News Service, secretary, and Henry Hudspeth, Titusville Star-Advertiser, treasurer.

At the Friday luncheon session H. L. Mossberger, director of the Florida Research Foundation and chairman of the agricultural committee of the state chamber of commerce, told listeners of the amazing opportunities for agriculture and industrial development of the state that have been revealed through successful programs with such crops as peanuts, cassava, daheen, lemon grass and others.

Business sessions were taken up with discussions of publishers' problems.

Speakers on the annual banquet program, which was staged at Silver Springs, where Ray and Anna Weston hosts were to the group, included George Hosmer, chairman of the National Editorial Association, pointing out that the bringing of this organization of publishers to the state last spring reflected millions of dollars worth of publicity for Florida in the newspapers of 35 states. Over 500 solid newspaper pages of press clippings were displayed to substantiate the claim.

Guest of honor was Don Blanding, better known as the Vagabond Poet, who recently published an entrancing book, "Florida's Greatest Spokesman," which has captivated his audience and following the banquet was swamped with demands for autographed copies of his delightful book.

Speaker of the evening was William E. Hall, editor of the Anderson, S. C. Independent-Tribune and Anderson Daily Mail, who received national awards last year for more reader interest and greater circulation, according to daily newspapers of the country.

In a brilliant address Hall inspired his listeners as he recounted what the newspapers of America have been doing to keep the union informed in people and advance its interests.

He talked to the gathered news men and women in terms and language that were unique and determined in their hearts to make the most of their glorious heritage.

Store Room Added To Kahn's In Pahokee

Workers are busy this week completing a new store room at the rear of the Kahn Department store in Pahokee. The room is square and construction work is being done by Bo Elkins. The store room will be ready within a few days to receive the many hundreds of items arriving for the holiday season at the popular Pahokee store.

The South Bay Growers and Distributors have added the Allison Packing House to their property in South Bay. R. D. McLean is driving new piling under the building and enlarging it with a 100 foot addition. L. Burtman, operator of the Allison Packing house for many years now is buying peppers and eggplants out of Fort Myers. F. J. Stiles, Allison buyer, is now in Pompano.

Harry Burch
After Jerry's Job

Discriminatory freight rates costing Florida shippers millions of dollars per year were attacked by Harry Burch, chairman of the South Florida Chamber of Commerce, in his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner this morning. Mr. Burch, during his business career, has lived in Tampa, Jacksonville and Miami and has been in business in Tallahassee for the past nine years.

"There is no excuse for charging Florida and other Southeastern shippers 30 to 50% more for hauling crops than the railroads charge of the North and West Coast, and when I am elected to Florida's Railroad Commission we are going to set the wheels in motion to eliminate this rank discrimination," Mr. Burch stated.

If You Build Will Electricity Be Available?

New electric lines, except to serve National Defense projects, simply can not be built. Materials must go to defense production. Check your electric service requirements with us before completing any construction plans.

Uncle Sam needs copper, steel, lead, zinc and hundreds of other materials for National Defense. Utility companies must now operate under priorities rules. Under this order—Preference Rating Order P-46, of the Office of Production Management—we are permitted to obtain only "materials required . . . either as Operating Supplies or for the Maintenance or Repair of . . . property."

This order does not permit our company to receive materials for constructing extensions of our lines beyond present service areas.

OFFICIALLY DEFINED

Producers Rating Order P-46, issued by Donald M. Nelson, Director of Priorities, OPM, defines these limitations on materials for utilities, as follows:

"DEFINITION"

"Maintenance" means the upkeep of a Producer's property and equipment in sound working condition. "Repair" means the repair of a Producer's property and equipment which is found worn or damaged, destruction of parts or the loss of parts, or damage to property which makes it unusable for service.

"Operational" means any material which is essential to the operation of any of the facilities or services specified above, and which is generally carried in Producers' stores and charged to operating expense accounts.

"Utility" states specifically:

"The term 'Operating Supplies,' 'Maintenance,' and 'Repair' as used in the report, shall mean those materials which are required in the repair installations with Material of a better kind, quality or design."

"Improvement" means the improvement of such property or equipment, other than the connection of new consumers to existing lines, or the installation of new equipment of the Producer, and minor improvements needed for replacement of worn out and other minor capital additions, such as overhead and other minor capital additions, the expansion of the service area of the Producer, the expansion of the service area of the Products."

UNCLE SAM COMES FIRST!

Our first duty is to Uncle Sam. Our next is to you, our customers. Part of that duty is to defer to you of these restrictions.

To safeguard you from possible disappointment and wasted expense, we suggest that you consult with us first, before you build or plan any new construction. We will be happy to advise you as to how best we can make the proper service extensions. In many cases we shall be pleased to do the job. In others, we must refer you to another utility company for the job.

In this emergency, we must all stick to our plan to clear the track for America's defense.
